Mitchell Wins in New York; Tammany Tiger is Defeated

FUSION MEN VICTORS AT POLLS

Riots Enliven Balloting in Big City Election--Heavy Vote Cast.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—John Purroy Mitchell, Fusion candidate, was elected Mayor of New York City today in one of the most bitterly contested elections. Father Knickerbocker was witness.

It is practically certain that the Fusion ticket was swept into office on the wave of victory that overwhelmed the Tammany Tiger at the polls.

Results equal to any ever witnessed here during an election were reported. They came as the climax of the virile campaign waged since William J. Gaynor was nominated in September.

The Tammany battle was managed by Joe Johnson, while Robert Adams, who was Mayor Gaynor's secretary, was at the helm for the Fusion ticket.

There is unusual excitement in the city tonight, and indications are that the night will be kept busy, their activity being in even greater demand than it was during the turbulent day.

Predict Big Victory.
Just prior to the closing of the polls Charles F. Murphy, leader of the Tammany forces and backer of Edward J. McCall, declared for a Democratic victory by an overwhelming plurality.

Simultaneous with Murphy's statement, John Purroy Mitchell, the Fusion candidate, was equally confident of his success.

"We shall win by a great majority," said Mitchell. "The people will put Tammany in the discard today."

Interest in Georgia in the New York election found birth in the active work of two Georgians—Robert Adams, who has been in charge of the Fusion campaign, and Joseph John Mitchell, who has guided the campaign of McCall. Both were formerly Atlanta newspaper men and are widely known here. Adams is a close relative of Congressman Adamson, of Georgia.

Atlanta Mother and Her Daughter End Lives in Savannah
SAVANNAH, Nov. 4.—Three years ago in Atlanta the husband of Mrs. Albertine M. Mack ended his own life. Today in Savannah the lifeless body of Mrs. Mack and her 11-year-old daughter, Albertine, were found in their bedroom. An open gas jet and the story of their end.

A note was found in Mrs. Mack's handwriting. It told of a pitiful struggle for existence she had made for herself and son and daughter after the death of the husband and father. And it told of her failure. "It was no use to provide," the note read. "I was alone and I was alone. I was alone to experience the hardships she had encountered. Death was considered preferable."

Just a few days ago the son, now Mrs. Mack had depended, was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., charged with stealing a car from a freight train. This, friends of Mrs. Mack say, was the crowning blow.

Sheep Flocks to Mow the Grass in City's Parks Urged

A brand-new idea of municipal efficiency was sprung by Park Commissioner L. C. Green Tuesday when he said he would introduce a resolution at the meeting of the Park Board providing for the purchase of flocks of sheep to keep the grass in Piedmont and Grant Parks mowed.

The idea has appealed to the sense of humor of Commissioner Frank Reynolds. He said he approved of the fact that Commissioner Green was learning about parks by reading up on the care of old English estates, but that if the sheep were purchased he would offer a resolution requesting them not to disturb the flowers of shrubbery.

Also he proposed that the Park Department purchase a flock of Mesquitos to mow the lawns.

It is believed that unless other business conficts the President can be induced to come here for at least one day. Jacksonville will be visited by the torpedo boat destroyer Preston as well as the torpedo boat Tingey and Thornton during the convention.

GEORGIA MILITIAMEN REPORTED ORDERED TO BE READY FOR SERVICE

THE MEXICAN SITUATION:
Dispatches from Mexico City state that Huerta's resignation has been demanded by President Wilson.

Later dispatches announce that Huerta will ignore the demand for the time being, and has appealed to representatives of the powers for their backing.

Washington dispatches state that Secretary Bryan was at his office nearly all night, expecting more important news from Mexico. Early in the day he refused to deny or affirm the reports of an ultimatum. Later he denied that an ultimatum had been issued.

Senator Bacon of Georgia, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, says the Mexican situation has about reached a "conclusion." Navy and War Departments are active.

Dispatches from Mexico City carry a denial from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy that he had presented any ultimatum to Huerta.

Huerta refused to discuss the subject with interviewers. In diplomatic circles it is recognized that Secretary Bryan's denial mentions "ultimatum," but does not say that a note has been sent to Huerta.

Georgia militia is reported to be under orders for immediate call to service, and General Evans, who is on a vacation in Mississippi is reported to have received orders to rejoin his command at Fort McPherson to be ready for movement of troops.

Gen. Evans Reported Recalled
It was reported on apparently reliable authority Tuesday that the Georgia militia, in common with the National Guard in more than a score of States, was being equipped for service in Mexico by the Government to be in readiness for immediate service.

Transports and ambulances have been ordered and instructions given to keep the national guardmen up to top notch, according to these reports. The War Department is prepared to move an immense detachment of militia from Georgia and neighboring states.

The same report had it that General Evans, who left for a hunting trip in Mississippi, had been recalled in the expectation that men of the Second Brigade would soon be given marching orders.

It was also said that the regiment at Fort McPherson had been given secret instructions to be in readiness. None of these reports could be officially confirmed, but militia and regulars have been expecting developments for a week past.

Huerta Bitterly Assails U. S.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—General Huerta will ignore, for the time being at least, the demand of the United States that he resign from the Presidency made last Sunday, but just learned of by the public. His future action will depend on the outcome of conferences which he will hold with members of the diplomatic corps. The first of these took place at the National Palace last night while troops guarded entrance to the structure. None of the diplomats who took part would discuss the meeting to-day.

Tammany Is Crushed at Polls; Great Hearst Victory

AUTOMOBILES FLASH BY CHURCH AS MASS IS SAID FOR BOY VICTIM

Scenes at funeral of John Eisele at Sacred Heart Church Wednesday.

Cars Seem to Purr Dirge for Funeral of John Eisele—Weeping Schoolmates Attend.

The great organ boomed in the Sacred Heart Church Wednesday and Father Guertan began the mass, while down in the aisle, before the central altar, and flanked with tall tapers, stood the little flower-covered casket of John Eisele.

And outside the church, just over in Peachtree street, the motor cars flashed back and forth in the morning sun, with no hint in their swift flight that one of their kind had struck the life out of the little boy two days ago.

The big church was crowded. Two hundred and fifty children from the parochial school next door—John's classmates and all the pupils from the first through the ninth grades—sat with the sisters, their teachers, in decorous files in the high-backed pews.

Children Show Grief.
The small faces were very solemn. In John's class, near the front, there was weeping among the little girls and furtive dabbs of handkerchiefs at the eyes of little boys.

The mass proceeded. Roving voices in the choir mingled with the mellow thunder of the organ. The congregation knelt or stood as at the ritualized glow from the pictured windows on the south. The tall tapers burned steadily. There was a warm fragrance of incense in the quiet air. And from outside the church came the occasional clang of a street car, and always the hum of the hurrying motor cars, speeding past the "death corner."

Some way, it seemed a part of the service. Mass was over. Father Dubois spoke, mostly to the children, with comforting words to the family of little John Eisele.

Priest Eulogizes Boy.
John's death was sudden, he said. It was unexpected. It came at the very threshold of what might have been a long and useful and happy life. But no death can be untimely, said the priest, to those who die in the faith, who are early trained and taught the ways of the church. And he found an example to all the sorrowing classmates of little John Eisele in the readiness, the preparedness of the little boy, when the unexpected summons came.

Father Dubois spoke a little of the earthly life, short at best, and more of the life beyond, where there would be no sad and sudden partings.

Then the great organ boomed again, this time in a theme of solemn triumph, and down the aisle, between the files of the boys and girls who had known and loved little John Eisele's brown-jacketed casket, moved, with the four little pallbearers at its side.

And Auto Flashed By.
Victor Corrigan, Joseph Holliday, William McAlpin, Carl Kherens—the small figures were bowed with a real grief.

And it seemed that just before they their charge reached the doorway the brightest ray of sunlight in all the church rested for a moment on the white casket and the flowers—and it came through the window where the little boy, Christ, stood teaching in the Temple.

Then the funeral procession moved away slowly toward the cemetery. And one by one the sisters marshaled their classes and marched them in double file back across the campus to their school.

And out in Peachtree street, past the death corner, the motor cars flashed merrily by in the sun.

Chief Opposes Fight For Children's Safety.

Chief of Police Beavers, taking notice of the criticism that has been heaped on his department for its failure to prevent the many automobile accidents in the city, replied Wednesday by an emphatic appeal to the parents of Atlanta to caution and instruct their children in the exercise of more care in crossing the streets at congested places.

"The parents have a part in the protection of their children," he said. "They can be of invaluable aid to the police department and at the same time do much to safeguard the lives of their own children. If the city will warn them of the dangers that lurk in the crowded streets and instruct them in the proper manner to cross them, we are sure to have fewer accidents."

Urges Parents to Help.
"The department is doing its utmost with the men at its command to keep the crossings safe and thoroughfare of the city safe to pedestrians and to relieve the crowded streets of every congested crossing possible. We have men, wherever possible, near every school in the city. If we do not have a man stationed at a school house it is because we have not one available."

"Children should be instructed by their parents not to run heedlessly across the street in front of automobiles and trucks and carriages. In the proper degree of caution, we would expect these shocking accidents seldom would occur."

LaFollette Reaches Here on Late Train

Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, will arrive in Atlanta at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from Gainesville, and in the evening will deliver an address in the Tabernacle auditorium, under the auspices of the Alcoholic Liquor Bureau.

The Badger State Senator had been expected in the city at 11:45 Wednesday morning, but he wrote the bureau authorities here that he would have to occupy his spare time in evening because of the condition of his health. LaFollette has been indisposed for several weeks, and has been ordered by his physician not to exert himself any more than absolutely necessary in filling his lecture dates.

Slayer Lynched as Rebuke to Governor

WIMBOR, ORE., Nov. 5.—John Culp, a negro, who shot and killed a deputy sheriff, was lynched here today. The body, ridged with bullets, was discovered at daylight hanging from a tree in front of the county courthouse.

Mr. Culp had been indicted for the murder of Sheriff Lee Culp, who was slain by a shot fired from a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver.

Bets Show Against Cigars on Mitchell

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Dawson Martin, owner and producer of several burlesque shows, let one of his shows against a bet of cigars that John Purry Mitchell would defeat Edward E. McCall in the mayoralty election here.

A hotel clerk was on the small end of the wager.

Sale Put Off in Last Effort to Get Money To Save Blind Home

The sale of the Industrial Home for the Blind, which was scheduled for Tuesday, has been postponed for a few days, while the backers of the Home make an effort to raise the $3,000 necessary to save the property.

The plan is to raise $1,250 by 25 subscriptions from fifty business men and a like amount in smaller subscriptions.

J. K. Orr is chairman of the committee handling the campaign, and feels certain the money will be subscribed.

Women in Legal Battle Over Poodle

COLUMBUS, N.Y., Nov. 5.—A poodle dog is causing a lively controversy between Mrs. J. R. Griggs and Mrs. Leo Isaacs, of Girard, Ala. Mrs. Isaacs has possession of the dog, which was claimed by Mrs. Griggs. They went to a justice of the peace in the Circuit Court of Alabama, and gave a $20 bond for the dog.

DEMOCRATS TO SLEEP 3 STATES

Governors Elected in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Virginia. Victory General Over Nation.

ELECTION FACTS

John Purry Mitchell, fusion nominee, elected Mayor of New York by about 108,000 plurality. Tammany Hall completely overthrown.

Republicans will control the next New York Legislature.

Ex-Governor Sulzer and possibly nineteen other progressives elected to New York Assembly.

The following Governors were elected: Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts; Fielder, Democrat, New Jersey; Stuart, Democrat, Virginia.

Republicans defeated fusion movement in Philadelphia.

Socialists made poor showing owing to fusion movements and radical platforms.

State Senator Blair Lee, Democrat, elected to U. S. Senate in Maryland to lead Senator Rayner's term.

Illinois women in many towns voted out liquor.

Lynn Schachtel administration in Schenectady, N. Y., repudiated.

Late returns indicate that workmen's compensation act and bill providing for sterilization of criminals is adopted by referendum vote in Oregon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Voters of New York have humiliated and stripped Tammany Hall of its power by electing John Purry Mitchell, the fusion nominee, mayor.

According to preliminary returns, about 108,000 Mitchell's strength carried through the balance of the Fusion ticket.

The result is regarded a great victory for William R. Hearst, who lost all his personal strength and that of his newspapers to beat Tammany.

Far-reaching political results are expected to come from the election. Predictions were made to-day that the Democratic organization in the State will be completely overhauled and that Charles F. Murphy will be eliminated as a political factor in the future.

The toga of leadership is expected to fall upon the shoulders of United States Senator James A. O'Grady, which means that the Wilson faction in the Democratic party would assert dominance.

There was an overflow throughout the State. The Republicans secured control of the Assembly, which will give that party absolute control of the next Legislature. This puts the Empire State in the position of having a Democratic executive, but a Republican legislative branch.

Big Sulzer Victory.

National interest centered upon the fight which William Sulzer, the incumbent, made in this city for election to the Assembly on the Progressive ticket. Sulzer was swept into office upon a triumphant wave of popularity, and declared that he felt he had been completely vindicated of the charges brought against him while he was Governor.

The Sulzer victory was another made in the face of Tammany Hall, for Sulzer and his cohorts among all the Tammany factions centered their assaults upon Murphy and his organization.

According to revised figures, the Sulzer victory was another made in the face of Tammany Hall, for Sulzer and his cohorts among all the Tammany factions centered their assaults upon Murphy and his organization.

ACCUSERS TO SLEEP 3 STATES

Investigation of the charges of unconstitutionality of the Federal Prison under the administration of Warden Meyer, as revealed by Julian Hawthorne, the noted writer, and others, was actively begun Wednesday with the arrival of R. V. LaDow, of Washington, Superintendent of Government Prisons.

More Than Dozen Charges.

The government official has taken up his headquarters at the prison and will make thorough probe into conditions. Just what tactics he will use in pushing his investigation were not revealed. However, it is known that he has possession of the statements of practically every ex-convict of the prison who has followed Hawthorne's lead in making accusations against the Atlanta institution's warden.

These accusations include the starvation of prisoners, inhumanity and general maladministration by Meyer. More than a dozen men, besides Hawthorne and his companion, Dr. W. J. Morton, the New York physician, have made charges to this effect.

Superintendent LaDow spent Wednesday in a general inspection tour of the prison and its grounds, accompanied by the accused warden. That the report will be withheld from the public until he has submitted it to Attorney General McReynolds is a prominent young unmarried Macon woman.

30-Button Boots, Reaching to Knees, Latest for Women

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, PARIS, Nov. 5.—Thirty-button boots and French heels—these are the styles decreed for women's footwear. The narrow skirt has driven out the Cuban heel and called for something which will accentuate the smallness of women's feet.

The prescribed height for the French heel is two and one-half inches, and it must curve and taper down, until the bottom is an inch in diameter. The tallest heel any maker has been called on for so far is seven and one-half inches.

The 30-button boots come up to the knees, and are made in soft leather with an extra high heel. A more popular style of boot is one which fits the calf of the leg and flares with a low heel.

28,000 Quilt Work For Morris Funeral

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Funeral services for the late Edward Morris, multi-millionaire meat packer, were held this afternoon at the family home on Devel boulevard. Twenty-eight thousand employees of the Morris plant in Chicago remained away from work, and six big packing plants in the city closed their doors in honor of the deceased.

DICTATOR TO TALK WITH THE ENVOY

Gen. Huerta Appeals to France to Mediate—Seven Warships Held at Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 5.—General Huerta will receive Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American chargé d'affaires, at the National Palace late to-day. It is expected that at that time the Mexican dictator will set forth his position as to his future policy.

A feeling of intense expectancy was around when it was learned that O'Shaughnessy was going to the palace. He refused to discuss his mission.

It is probable that no announcement will be made here after the meeting, but that its result will be given out at Washington.

Dispatches from Vera Cruz say that John Lind, the special envoy sent to Mexico by President Wilson, expects the situation involving Mexico and the United States to come to a head within a very short time. These were followed by reports that Mr. Lind had been communicating directly with the Huerta government without consulting O'Shaughnessy.

YOUNG WOMAN, DESPONDENT, ENDS LIFE

Miss Lula Upchurch Takes Acid, Hoping to "Find Something Better in Unknown."

Life seemed to be offering a narrow and featureless road to Miss Lula Upchurch, 28 years old, of No. 219 Wylie street. And so Tuesday morning she went down to death by her own hand, in the hope of "finding something better on the other side."

At a crack Miss Upchurch drank carbolic acid at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Upchurch. A few minutes later her mother came to call her and found her lying across her bed.

"Are you sick? Are you suffering?" the mother asked.

"Oh, I hurt all over," was the reply. And that was all she said. She became unconscious, and died just after reaching the Grady Hospital.

"Her death has been bad," the father said. "When she was 4 years old she suffered a stroke of paralysis, and she never has been well since."

"And then, three weeks ago, her brother, who was taken to the hospital and operated on for appendicitis," Mrs. Upchurch said. "Lula seemed to brood over that terribly. He got along all right, and she had good news from him every day. But she just got so she wouldn't speak to anybody except the members of the family, and not much to them. When visitors came in the house she would turn away from them and go to her room. I tried to get her to leave her room, because I knew she was brooding and in low spirits."

Even after the brother came home, a few days ago, nearly well, she showed her settled melancholy. Then wasn't much in life for her, she said.

The father and mother survive, with six brothers, three—Jesse, Berry, Plennie, Jake and Paul, and a sister Mrs. Nannie Newman.

JUDGE'S WORDS GIVE LEO FRANK NEW HOPE

Attorneys Hold That Roan's Expression Doubt Will Make Rehearing Assured.

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank Tuesday made the declaration that the Supreme Court of Georgia could avoid giving their client a new trial only by upsetting a well-established precedent and by reversing every Supreme Court decision which has borne on the trial judge's duty to set aside a verdict of guilty for which he is not fully satisfied that the evidence is not fully satisfied that the defendant is not guilty of the crime.

"I am not venturing to predict what the Supreme Court will do in the matter," said Beuben R. Arnold, one of the counsel. "It seems to me, however, that the law is clear on this point. There is no escape from the fact that the Supreme Court repeatedly has ruled that the trial judge, if he is not fully satisfied that the evidence has demonstrated the guilt of the defendant, has no other course open than to order a new trial."

He will not have to have our conclusion on an isolated case. The Georgia reports show that this exact point has been decided, again and again by the Supreme Court. In not one of the cases, I think, did the presiding judge so strongly express his doubt of the guilt or innocence of the defendant as did Judge Roan in respect to Leo Frank.

Roan's Position Clear.

"Judge Roan went out of his way to make his stand in the matter perfectly clear. He mentioned that the case had given him much concern and worry—more than any other case over which he had presided. He then made his important declaration that, although he had listened to the evidence and arguments for 30 days, he was not yet convinced of the man's innocence or guilt."

The law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, clearly lays down the principle that the judge has responsibility in the matter and can not shift every ounce of the burden onto the shoulders of the jurors. Judge after judge virtually has been reprimanded for evading his duty in this respect."

Attorney Arnold made a number of cases illustrating his point. In the case of Livingston v. Taylor, Georgia, the Supreme Court enunciated the principle in these words, quoting in part from a previous decision in the case of Rogers vs. the State, 101 Georgia.

"From the tenor of his order his honor seems to have been of the impression that if there was evidence to support the verdict he was not authorized to set it aside. This view is erroneous."

Gives Judge Discretion.

From this point the decision in the Rogers case is cited:

"The law confers upon trial judges a discretion in granting or refusing a new trial in cases where the verdict is alleged to be contrary to evidence. It is not incumbent upon the court to set aside a verdict without sufficient evidence to support it, and it imposes upon the court the duty not to allow a conviction satisfactory and doubtful evidence to stand when the record discloses strong reason for believing that the judge below was not himself fully satisfied with the findings of the jury."

In the Rogers case, the trial judge's remark, "saying the new trial was proper," is cited as being evidence to support the verdict. The evidence is that the motion is overruled and a new trial refused.

Decatur to Vote On Amendments To City's Charter

Decatur citizens will vote on amendments to the city charter Wednesday, and to-day it is the sole topic of conversation in the Decatur County town.

A meeting was held at the courthouse in Decatur Monday night, which was attended by 165 of the 249 registered voters. A long debate was expected, but the eloquence of some of the speakers was cut off by putting the question as to whether the meeting favored the amendment or not. More than 100 men voted against it, less than 20 for it, while 40 did not express themselves.

The amendments provide for the election by the people of the City Marshal, Superintendent of the Workhouse and the City Clerk, positions heretofore filled by the Council. The amendments also provide cuts in salaries.

FAMED SPEAKERS FOR MISSION MEET

Convention of Southern Alliance Opens in Tabernacle Sunday for Week's Session.

The annual convention of the Southern District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance begins in Atlanta Sunday and will continue throughout the week, closing Sunday night, November 16.

The meetings will be held in Alliance Tabernacle, 75 Capital avenue. There will be six or seven addresses and services daily by different speakers. Delegates and visitors from a number of States will be in attendance.

The noted speakers expected are the Rev. E. J. Richards, of New York, Home Secretary; the Rev. W. T. McArthur, of New York, evangelist; the Rev. J. A. Hubbard and R. A. Forrest, of Texas; the Rev. and Mrs. Van-Bruck, missionaries of Central China; Mrs. McArthur, of Durham, N. C., returned missionary to the South Africa.

Millinery Teacher Sues Ex-Assistant For Luring Pupils

Declaring that his former assistant had taken office adjoining his, and was enticing his pupils away from him, C. O. Branning, proprietor of a millinery school at No. 100 1/2 Whitehall street, filed suit for $2,000 damages against Miss Maude Sparkman Tuesday and asked for an injunction.

Branning said he discharged Miss Sparkman October 1. Afterward, he declared, the young woman rented an office next door to his own and was in the habit of standing in the doorway and "speaking" to his pupils as they came in.

Judge Postlemon granted a temporary restraining order against Miss Sparkman and set the hearing for November 8.

COUNCIL FAVORS RAISE FOR POLICE

Fifty-five Atlanta Patrolmen Will Benefit if Mayor and Aldermen Approve Measure.

If the Aldermanic Board and Mayor Woodward approve the action of the lower branch of the City Council of Monday afternoon increases in salaries aggregating more than $12,000 a year will be given to Atlanta policemen.

The new scale of salaries will be: first year, $75; second year, $80; third year, $85; fourth year, $90.

The present scale is: First year, $67.50; second year, $72.50; third year, $77.50; fourth year, $82.50; fifth year, $87.50; sixth year, $90.

Twenty-five policemen will be immediately affected if the ordinance is passed. It is to go into operation January 1.

M'Nagall Missing; Ill, Says Prosecutor

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Ortelle M'Nagall, star witness for the prosecution at the trials of the McNamara brothers here, and one of the 20 officials of the Structural Iron Workers Union at Indianapolis has disappeared. He was removed from the Los Angeles County Jail, but District Attorney Frederick to-day refused to affirm or deny he had been released.

"McNagall has tuberculosis," said Frederick. "He would have died if he had been left in jail."

Doctor's Car Stolen Twice in One Week

Dr. R. S. Moore, of 211 Grand Opera House Building, is conducting another hunt for his automobile. It was stolen Tuesday for the second time within a few weeks.

Dr. Moore left the car in front of the "House that Jack Built" Tuesday morning in the serene confidence that it would be there when he came out of his office. It was not. The machine is a five-passenger Hudson with a blue body.

HELD FOR SLAYING

GALESDEN, ALA., Nov. 4.—A Coroner's jury today held Omar Coffey for the death of George Burgess, who was shot in a hardware store at Atlanta Saturday night. Coffey claims the killing was accidental.

Traveler Carries Menagerie in Grip

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—Smith Wilkins, of Warrington, who arrived Monday to attend the fair, brought three menagerie in his grip. He will exhibit them at the fair.

He brought a dog and a fox which had been raised together and were as friendly as two puppies.

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate action should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Use a simple recipe which will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp itching. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using the simple recipe. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. borax, a small box of Buxo Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth, and make it soft and shiny.

Prosecuted as 'Tiger,' Man Commits Suicide

GALESDEN, Nov. 4.—Despondent because of frequent prosecution for alleged violation of the prohibition law, Wm. Murphy, a Marshall County resident, fired a charge of shot into his heart. Death was instantaneous.

In preparing for death, Murphy wrote a letter to his friends and relatives saying he was tired of the battle against a law that he believed was unjust. He placed the stock of a shotgun in his mouth, and pulled the trigger with a toe.

NORTHAMPTON, MASS., Nov. 4.

Miss Margaret Adamick has been the most enviable notoriety as the most perfect American beauty? The title of "America's most perfect beauty" has been conferred upon her by the experts of Smith College after weeks of research.

Miss Adamick is little more than 16 and her measurements, the college experts declare, compare more closely to those of the Venus de Milo than to any one of the other young women who have been publicly acclaimed the "perfect beauty" of the twentieth century.

Furnished by the college authorities, Miss Adamick's measurements are as follows:

Height	5 feet, 11 1/2 inches
Weight	117 pounds
Waist	25 inches
Bust	36 inches
Hips	36 inches

And Jack Smith of U. said her proud mother, when the report of the experts had been sent to her home in Chicago, "she was refused permission to play basketball until she procured a physician's certificate stating that she was in good health."

One of the physicians who examined her said:

"She is without doubt the most perfect specimen of womanhood I have ever seen in my professional career."

In addition to her beauty of face and figure she knows how to carry herself, how to walk and stand and sit. She is the only girl in this college who has ever attained such physical perfection."

MORE RIOTING IN INDIANAPOLIS CAR STRIKE

Police Officials Refuse to Put Men on Trolleys to Protect Non-Union Crews.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—Rioting in the trolley strike here is reaching its fiercest stage as a street car, manned by imported strike-breakers and escorted by mounted men and policemen on foot, was blockaded by a large crowd at Illinois and North streets after having succeeded in covering half a mile of the trip.

Bricks and other missiles were hurled until the strike-breakers became terror stricken and crouching in the bottom of the car begged for mercy and protection from the police. None of the police would board the car.

Six strike-breakers were injured, according to reports from the police. The police refused to allow any union men to come from being hit with bricks.

No Policemen on Cars. Police Captain Kruger, in instructing the patrolmen at the car, issued no orders that the men should board the cars if the sheriff is made to run them. The men should walk alongside them, he said, adding that "there is not a man present who wants to go on them."

When Sheriff Porteus was asked if he would order his deputies, who are all business and professional men on the cars in case he decided to take a hand in the car strike, he declared it was not up to the sheriff's office to run the cars.

Many of the business men deputies had submitted certificates that they were unable to serve as deputy sheriffs. Another list will be made out to fill these vacancies.

The street car company refused to entertain a proposition to arbitrate and will not attempt to run cars with the imported strike-breakers until what they deem sufficient protection with policemen on the cars is furnished.

Business Suffers Heavily. The police refuse to allow any union men to come from being hit with bricks.

The governor will not call State troops except as a last resort. Meanwhile business is suffering and heavy losses. Workmen and others are paying from 10 cents to 25 cents to get to their places of occupation or business in the morning and higher rates to get back home at night.

Every conceivable kind of convenience is being used from roller skates to motor moving vans.

Indictments Against Officials Held Void.

MUNTSVILLE, Nov. 5.—The fact that several able attorneys in Huntsville have expressed the opinion that all the indictments returned by the recent Grand Jury which indicted several officials of the city and others are void because known to be untrue and caused something of a stir in court circles.

The claim is set out that the action of the Grand Jury was rendered void by the addition of five new men to the jury after it had not yet started with its work, to fill the places of men who had been excused.

50 Wild Pecoraries To Walk the Plank.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 5.—Fifty wild pecoraries from South America will be thrown into the high seas from the British steamer Clement when she puts to sea again, some time within the next few days.

The animal, similar to the wild boar, it is said to be one of the most ferocious, and like the bryans, is untamable. They were rejected by show and sent on this account and the captain announced they would have to walk the plank when he got far enough at sea to be sure they could not swim to shore.

44 Per Cent of Mail Lacking in Address.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Postmaster General Burleson today directed postmasters everywhere to stamp on inadequately addressed matter with "Delivery delayed on account of incomplete address."

The Postmaster General declares that the people do not use proper care in addressing their mail. Last Sunday a count in Chicago revealed that out of a half million addresses 44 per cent were inaccurate.

Chief's Policies Supported by Johnson

Police Commissioner Not Seeking Leadership of Board—Will Run for Recorder.

Police Commissioner George E. Johnson, regarded as one of the leaders in the minority opposition to Police Chief Heaver's in the Police Commission, has come out as a strong and full-fledged backer of the chief and his policies.

"I will stand by Chief Heaver and support him to the utmost of my ability so long as he enforces the law," said Commissioner Johnson, in a statement made yesterday.

This has been my attitude toward every police chief during my service as Police Commissioner, and it is disastrous to me to be placed in a false light," he added.

At the same time, Commissioner Johnson outlined his future political policy. He set at rest persistent reports and rumors that he is seeking the chairmanship of the Police Commission next March, when Chairman Carlos Mason will retire.

But he announced himself squarely in the race for Recorder next year. He said: "I am not in the race for chairman of the Police Commission, neither am I a candidate for Sheriff. I want all of the boys to remember me for Recorder next year."

This announcement prefaces another spirited fight for the Recorder's job. It is known that Recorder Hryley will make the race for the State Court of Appeals and should be elevated to that bench. Mr. Johnson is expected to have plenty of company to make the fight interesting.

Mr. Johnson, it will be remembered, put up a hot fight for Recorder in the last election.

Submits Again to Knife to Prove Her Appendix Removed

SPOKANE, Nov. 5.—Convinced that her appendix was removed during an operation performed for another disorder a year ago by Dr. T. E. Hoxsey and other physicians, Mrs. Lydia Murray, who was ordered by a jury in the Superior Court last month to pay the physician $283 for services, has undergone a second operation to prove that she lost her appendix at the former operation.

Following the second operation, performed recently, she has on file a motion for a new trial, declaring the operation showed the appendix had been removed.

In her affidavit filed with the motion for a new trial, Mrs. Murray says: "I am the same Lydia Murray upon whom Dr. Hoxsey and Yarrist testified they operated and did not remove my appendix."

She further alleges that she had had the operation performed up to the time of the trial. This was by Dr. Hoxsey and Yarrist.

50 Dead in French Wreck; Engineer of Express Arrested

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, PARIS, Nov. 5.—The victims of the disastrous collision last night between a mail train and the Marseilles-Paris day express on the Paris-Lyon-Mediterranean Railway at Melun probably will be more than fifty.

Mr. Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, is believed to be among the dead. Most of the other victims were mail clerks. Recently five persons were injured, some of them fatally.

The wreck, the worst in the history of French railroading, will be investigated by the engineer of the express train, who is charged with running by stop signals, was arrested. The express train was a favorite for tourists, but so far as could be learned no American were among the victims.

NUTTING FORCES SEE VICTORY IN COUNCIL

Friends of Alderman James R. Nutting Tuesday declared that there was no longer any doubt about his election to the office of Mayor Pro Tem. They claim 17 of the 30 votes in council. The optimistic announcement was made after a conference of the leaders, which took place immediately following the adjournment of Council Monday afternoon. Supporters of Alderman J. N. Ragdale, second strongest in the race for Mayor Pro Tem, are by no means willing to concede a victory to Alderman Nutting. They really expect to win, but they admit that their only chance is to get all the support that is now lined up behind Alderman J. H. Harwell.

BOY, 3, TEACHES BIG BULLDOG TO LAUGH

John Delaney and Duke, His Constant Companion and Protector, at Play in John's Back Yard.

Conceding that strength goes to Alderman Ragdale, the Nutting men claim that they still have their 11 votes. Alderman Nutting has been put forward as a strictly anti-Woodward party candidate and the leaders of this faction take the view that they are not to suffer defeat. They would regard the defeat of Nutting as a Woodward victory in Council, something that has not happened since the beginning of the present administration.

Woodward Keeps Silent. Mayor Woodward is silent, and that adds to the uncertainty of the situation. He might exert himself before the voting takes place.

Another unsettled point is that a new member of Council must be elected from the Second Ward before the selection of the new Mayor Pro Tem. Councilman Thomas J. Lynch, former Councilman from that Ward, announced Tuesday that he would resign on December 1. His successor will be named by Council instead of by the voters of that ward. It is said that either Robert R. Otis or J. H. McCard will be the man. It is not known how either of these would stand in the Mayor Pro Tem fight.

But if the Nutting forces control the strength they claim, the new Councilman, wherever he may be, very likely will be a Nutting supporter. The would have to be that to get elected.

How They Line Up. The known attitudes of the members of Council are as follows: For Nutting—Woodward, Alverson, Thompson, Madison, Eason, Woods, Burton, Reynolds, Owens, Candler, Hays, White, Mason. For Ragdale—Knight, Shepard, Hays, Culbert, Humphrey, Kimbrough, Hays, Askey, McDougal, Dunlap, Harwell, Kelly, and the 12,193 votes gained from the Second Ward, Parlin, Lee, and the 12,193 votes gained from the same time last year, an increase of 850 votes.

McREYNOLDS TO VISIT PRISON ON PROBE

Attorney General Is Reported as Ready to Begin Investigation of Hawthorne Charges.

Information was received in Atlanta Tuesday that the United States Department of Justice's investigation into the charges made by Julian Hawthorne, noted writer, and others against the Federal Prison here will soon be under way.

According to one report, Attorney General McReynolds himself will pay a personal visit of inspection to the prison to acquaint himself with the general conditions.

The actual investigation, however, will be conducted by a special agent acting with either R. V. Ladow, head of the prison parole board, or J. C. Adkins, assistant United States Attorney General.

In spite of the fact that Warden W. H. Meyer, in denying all charges of bad food, mismanagement and general bad conditions, announced that the prison was open to the public to judge for themselves, visitors regarded as critics of the institution, have been refused admittance.

Mr. Meyer has taken hold of the situation with an iron hand in an effort to stay the tide of criticism, and strict orders have been issued to guards that they must not discuss conditions within the walls.

November Sale of Silks

Atlanta's Greatest Silk Occasion Begins To-morrow.
Lavish Stocks of Fashionable Silks at Prices Surprisingly Low

SILKS of surpassing beauty and style in an assortment of excellent varieties at prices never before approached in lowness this season. There, in a nutshell, is the story of our best November silk sale. It brings you the

Most desired and fashionable Silks at prices that approximate Half

The sale is most extraordinary. Partly because these are the very weaves and colors out of which the season's most beautiful and useful gowns are being made; more because of the low prices, but mostly because stylish silks of the desired kinds are hard to get this season at any price.

That we are able to offer such lavish assortments under price simply evidences the high position Rich's holds in the silk world. We have acquired these silks chiefly because those silk weavers and manufacturers who have helped further this great Silk Sale know they will be repaid by future orders on regular merchandise.

But that's an aside—the silks you are interested in are spread on tables throughout the enlarged silk annex, at these inviting prices:

$1.15 Chiffon Cloths, etc.

All-silk chiffon cloths and scarves, for the highly fashionable soft draperies, waists, blouses and trimmings. Some are $1, but most of them are $1.50 quality. Variously in Nile, black, light, peach, palm, light blue, turquoise, gray, pink, maize, gold and champagne. 40 to 45 inches wide.

$1.59 Chiffon Faille Silks

This identical silk has been one of our best sellers at $1.25. This now at $1.23 will go in a jiffy. In the soft chiffon weaves, with the fashionable Paille cord. Midnight and navy blue, Copenhagen, viciaria, king's blue, Russian green and viciaria. 35 inches.

75c Chiffon Taffeta Silk

Chiffon taffetas formerly selling at 50c, 75c and $1. Now grouped at 35c. Included are light blues, purple, garnet, tan, rose, Copenhagen, red and champagne. 35 and 37 inches wide. In the same lot are some navy blue ratines, 35 inches wide.

$1.50 Handsome Moire Silks at Moires, the theme of every fashionable tale. Dresses are made of them, and coats and fashionable jackets and waists for the new "composé" suits and gowns. Pure silk, beautified with the fashionable colour and rousance motifs designs. Taupe, brown, Copenhagen, September, Moss, rose, navy, light blue, viciaria. 36 inches.

$2.50 Silk Crepe de Chine at

Just think of getting the scarce and fashionable crepe de chine and the high-grade crepe meters at this saving of $1 a yard. Not a piece nor tag ends nor odd shades. GRAIN NOTI

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "A stout of the commission houses last night showed 19 out of 24 advised purchasing of wheat on any future decline, believing that the down-turn had been enough for the present."

"It was noticeable that the bull investors and buyers were good buyers on the decline."

"There are a few bulls in oats, but they are not buying much. The Government report will be issued November 19 at 1:15 p. m. and will show the yield per acre and production of corn, wheat, sorghum and barley."

Barlett, Frazer Co. say: "Wheat—The market is in a weaker market today, new buying power being exhausted."

"Corn—A general sentiment rather bearish and the bulls are not furnishing any substantial support."

"Oats—Prices still on the downgrade and the stocks heavy and the demand slack."

PROPERTY SALE KEY TO RIXIE'S PROSPERITY

Hemphill Holdings Bring $700
Per Foot—Means Good Times,
Says E. P. Ansley.

With regard to the sale of the W. A. Hemphill estate property, which brought up to $700 a front foot at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets Tuesday, Edwin P. Ansley talked of its indication that the tide of prosperity has turned—and turned Southwest.

"Nifty days ago," said Mr. Ansley Wednesday morning, "I did not believe it. Now it would be a wise thing to put this property on the market. Conditions were unsettled in Washington, especially in regard to the currency and tariff legislation.

"Now all that is pretty well settled. The tariff bureau is dead, and the President is likely to have his way with the currency bill. That will give certain relief from panic conditions as in 1907, and insuring peace secure for this year.

"Then I have looked over part of the South, as it were. Two automobile trips, covering about 2,000 miles in Georgia and Western Alabama, convinced me that this territory will have good times after the crops are in. No matter what happens in Washington, or what financial conditions arise in New York. That is the thing that induced me to try to convince, in my recent advertisement, my faith in the return of good times. It is a feeling mistake for people with funds to invest to adopt a waiting policy.

"After the currency bill is passed there is sure to be a rush of investors who have been holding their money for the last twelve months. Consequently, money will not have the same purchasing power it has today, when there has been so much of it in sight.

"The large crowd of investors at the Hemphill sale and the spirited bidding proved to me that our people have plenty of confidence in the continued growth of Atlanta, and are ready to pick up any profitable investment wherever offered.

Mr. Ansley added that he expected to see the next twelve months the best in the real estate business Atlanta ever had enjoyed, and that next spring could reach the "high water mark of real estate activity."

Will Wed a Veiled Bride He Never Saw

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—To go through an entire courtship and wedding ceremony without seeing the face of his bride will be the experience of Dr. Francis W. Hartley, No. 1204 West Payette street, when within the next two weeks he marries Mrs. Marion C. Arnett, of Philadelphia, whom he wooed by mail.

Mrs. Arnett is a widow, 45. Dr. Hartley, 46, has been twice married. The heavy black veil which the widow Arnett will wear will not be removed until after the ceremony. Dr. Hartley has consented to this unusual plan.

Bees Sting Groom; Wedding Is Halting

MOSELLE, MISS., Nov. 5.—Dr. H. M. Cranford, while preparing for his wedding, uttered his horse to near some bees. The bees attacked the horse, and in unobeying the animal Dr. Cranford was so severely stung that he became unconscious. The horse wrecked the buggy and probably will die.

Dr. Cranford was revived by fellow physicians and his marriage with Miss Lena Miller took place about an hour later.

Cut in Rate Follows City Ownership Plan

GALESBURG, ILL., Nov. 5.—Following the passage of a resolution last night by the City Council to take steps looking toward the municipal ownership and sale of electrically constructed lines, D. McKelvey, local manager for the McKelvey Electric, announced that afternoon that his company would make a 25 per cent reduction in rates the first of the year.

Soft Hats the Fall Style

Greens, Olives, Blues, Graphites, Pearls

The popularity of the Soft Hat was never more in evidence than the present season is proving—

The tendency to colors leans to tints of Green—Olive—Blue—Slate and two-tone mixtures—

The shapes are Tyrolean and Alpine, blocked in a manner that they may be changed to meet the rakish demands—

Our Hats are excellent values—the range for selection is broad—

Soft Felts—$2.00 to $5.00. Imported Velours—$5.00 and $6.50. Derbies—$3.00 to $5.00. Dress "Toppers"—$6.00 to $8.00.

GEORGIAN "WANT AD" FINDS SHRINE PIN UNAIDED, AFTER HOPE IS DEAD

This is the little "lost" ad which appeared in The Georgian, and here, too, is M. C. Maxwell, who set it at work.

Owner Quits Search, but Little Ad Doesn't. Which Is a Habit It Has.

ST—Sunday, make money with it.

And for four months, and some odd days, the little want ad in The Georgian kept quietly quiet.

So it appeared to M. C. Maxwell, and to Mrs. Maxwell, who is advertising man, with faith in newspaper space. Even he gave up as months passed, but the want ad didn't, and now he has his pin.

DR. LITTLE HEADS PRESBYTERIANS

ROME, GA., Nov. 5.—Dr. A. A. Little, pastor of the Westminster Church in Atlanta, was made the moderator of the Presbyterians' Synod of Georgia in session here this week.

Rev. R. O. Plinn, of Atlanta, made a report Wednesday on the work of the committee on home missions and evangelism. Another Atlanta minister, the Rev. S. L. Morris, has charge of the work on societies and organizations.

The second day of the synod will be devoted largely to a discussion of the mission movement. Among the speakers will be Dr. Clay Lilly, of Louisville; Dr. James I. Vance, of Nashville; and Dr. Edward W. Smith, of Columbus, R. C. Dr. Little will take part in a symposium Friday on "How the Indian Church May Become More Effective in Foreign Missions Work." The sessions will end Friday night at a hundred devotions in attendance at the synod, which is holding its meetings in the historic First Presbyterian Church. This is the church of which Dr. Edward R. Anson, father of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, was pastor for many years.

The members of the entertainment committee are John C. Pringle, S. M. Lowery, Graham Wright, Roy Berry, E. E. Maddox and G. B. Holder.

Solid Carload of Hats and Trimmings

In the Most Remarkable Sale Ever Offered in This or Any Other Store in Atlanta---Thursday

At 1/4 of Its Actual Value

THIS great purchase could not have been made at a more opportune time. It would have been an extraordinary stroke of fortune at the end of the winter, but right in the midst of the season it is little short of marvelous.

It's a tremendously important sale from every point of view---from the finality of price, which you will see below---from the finality of style and quality, which you will see to-morrow.

Those who remember our great St. Louis Purchase Sales of past seasons will welcome this announcement.

We have planned this sale to even eclipse any event ever before attempted---to set a new high record of value-giving.

Under ordinary conditions, we sell Millinery, on a conservative basis, from 1-3 to 1-2 less than at other shops. So here's a double saving for those who take advantage of this sale.

Our entire Millinery Section will be devoted to this event---with additional salesforce to insure prompt and unhurried selection.

These Are Typical Values of the Entire Lot

TAMMANY TIGER COMPLETELY ROUTED

W. R. Hearst Wins Great Fight Against Grafters

Sulzer, Impeached Governor, Easily Elected to Assembly; Democratic Victory General Over the Nation.

Republicans will have 56 seats out of 150 in the next Assembly, while the Progressive claims are 11 to 20. All along the line the fight was made on a "progressive" and even radical platform, and in many districts of the State there were Fusion movements.

One of the big surprises was the defeat of Mayor George R. Linn, of Schenectady, who was seeking re-election on the Socialist ticket. Mayor Linn's Socialist administration was repudiated by the voters, after the Democrats and Republicans allied themselves.

Louis Will, an out-and-out Progressive, was elected Mayor of Syracuse, while Louis P. Farina, an anti-organization Democrat, was elected Mayor of Buffalo.

There was a Democratic landslide at Troy, but the Republicans carried the day in Albany and Rochester.

Tammany Real Issue.
The eyes of the nation had been turned to New York because of the bitter campaign which had been waged here, especially after the impeachment of Governor Sulzer. Mr. Sulzer and his friends, by their constant charges against Tammany Hall, their exposures and their threats brought the attention of the country to the most spectacular campaign ever waged here.

In the best of battle, with Judge Edward E. McCall, the Tammany nominee for Mayor, and his political enemies hurling accusations and recriminations at each other, the original issues of the campaign were obscured. From a matter of new subway, economy and lower taxes, the controversy settled down into a fight between the Tammany man and the independent.

Graham's Youngest Mayor.
George McAnany, Fusion candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, and William A. Prendergast, candidate for Comptroller, had a hard time of it, and were pulled through only by the popularity of Mitchell. Managers of McAnany's campaign claimed a plurality of 15,000, while the Prendergast supporters claimed 15,000.

There was no contest for District Attorney of New York County, the incumbent, Charles S. Whitman, and William learned that Mitchell had been elected Mayor. No longer had the power of the District Attorney's office to give the city the best and wisest administration it has ever had.

Atlantans Directed Fight on Each Side.
Two of the central figures in the New York fight which resulted in the overthrow of Tammany Tuesday were Atlantans—Robert Adamson, secretary to the late Mayor Gaynor, and Joseph Johnson, city commissioner. They were aligned on different sides in one of the most spectacular political battles waged in New York in recent years.

Both were appointed by Mayor Gaynor, but at the Mayor's death, Adamson took up the fight against powerful Tammany with all the energy and determination at his command, while Johnson raised the banner of the threatened organization.

Adamson was made the manager of the anti-Tammany campaign, and Johnson became the most active member of the Tammany executive committee. John Purroy Mitchell was given up by the Fusionists as their candidate, and Adamson gave him his heartiest support and encouragement. He was the hand that made the largest part in guiding the campaign that resulted in the election of Mitchell Tuesday.

Johnson was as sincere and active in his support of Edward E. McCall, but he had cast his fortunes with the unpopular side. The people finally were rebelling at the domination of Tammany, and they were determined to defeat the organization, regardless of who might be pleading its cause.

Adamson formerly was the city editor of The Constitution. Johnson held a similar position with The Journal.

Wilson Congratulates Victors by Telegraph.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Delighted by the Democratic victories in the elections yesterday, President Wilson spent today going over detailed returns and in sending telegrams of congratulation to the victorious Democrats in various States. To David Walsh, elected Governor of Massachusetts, he sent the following:

"My heartiest congratulations. It was a splendid victory, finely won."

Blair Lee, who won in his race for the United States Senatorship in Maryland, was sent the following:

"I congratulate you and the party warmly. The victory was completely Newton D. Baker, who was re-elected Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, was sent this message:

"Please accept my warmest congratulations. It did us all good to hear of your victory."

Democratic victories in the elections were interpreted by partisans as the Wilsonian program as an endorsement of the tariff bill and the currency program. Leaders on the other side representing the administration expected to see yesterday's Congress pass a measure of tightening President Wilson's control over Congress.

Democrats Sweep Massachusetts.
BOSTON, Nov. 12.—David L. Walsh, the Democratic candidate, was elected Governor of Massachusetts by a plurality of 57,272 on complete returns received today. He led the entire State ticket to victory, according to statistics.

Mr. Walsh's vote was 182,977, with all the returns in. Four last year received 192,154. The Walsh vote is amazingly high for an off year.

Charles Sumner Bird, Progressive, won second place by an ample majority of 100,000 votes, defeating the Republican candidate, was 100,000, and Governor Foss, who ran as an independent, received only 20,000 votes.

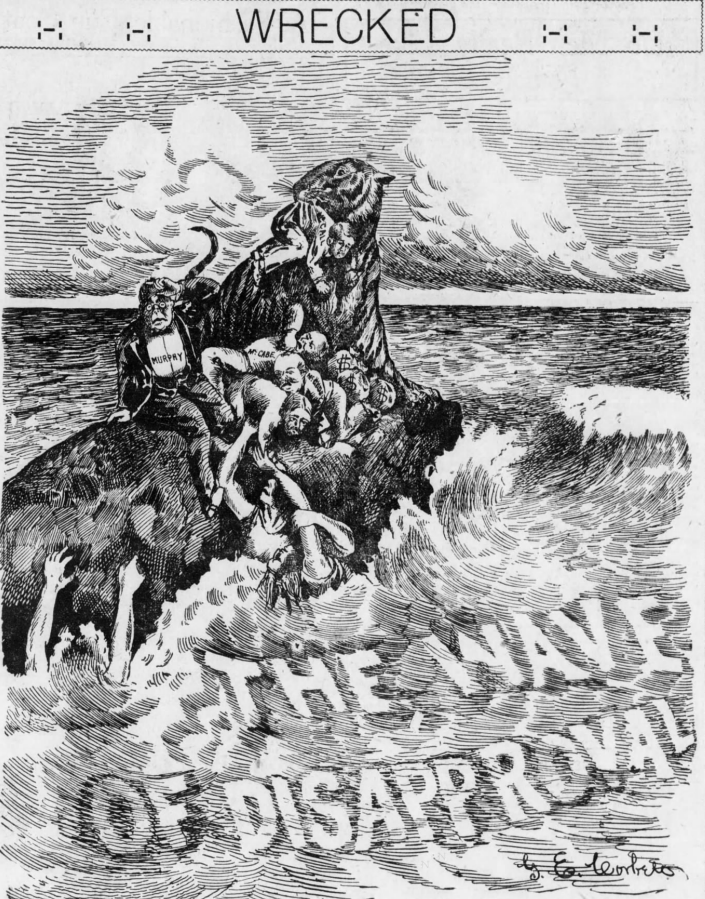

Edward P. Barry, Democrat, won a spectacular victory over August Goetting, Republican, for Lieutenant Governor. He had a plurality of almost 30,000. On the remainder of the ticket estimates put the Democratic candidates ahead with safe margins.

The Democrats apparently gained control of the House of Representatives. With 180 seats of 240 held from the Democrats had 22. Republicans 68, Socialists 1, Independent 1 and Progressives 5.

The election makes the Republicans the third party of the State for the first time since before the Civil War.

Democrats Win Most in Hoosierdom.
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—While

Democratic victories predominated in the municipal elections throughout Indiana, there were a few jobs and surprises revealed in the final results. In Indianapolis, where six tickets were competing, Joseph E. Ball, Democrat, without newspaper support, was elected Mayor by over 5,000 plurality and carried his entire city ticket through. Dr. Charles S. Woods, nominated as "citizens' non-partisan candidate by a committee of 150 prominent business and professional men and supported by the most influential newspaper in the city, polled fewer votes than the Socialist candidate.

WRECKED

Waitress Found on Bed by Boarding House Landlady—Had Been Very Ill.

Physicians at Grady Hospital are puzzled over the mysterious illness of Miss Mattie McDonald, a waitress at a cafe on Mitchell street, who was found lying on her bed in a semi-conscious condition and unable to speak Wednesday.

The girl was found by a woman with whom she boards at No. 229 South Pryor street, who investigated when the girl failed to go to work.

She found Miss McDonald lying on the bed with a bottle of unlabeled medicine beside her. The girl could not speak and appeared to be under the influence of a narcotic. According to the police, the proprietor of McDonald had been sick for several weeks. She had taken medicine to relieve the pain, and it is thought she took an overdose.

The girl was taken to Grady Hospital shortly after being discovered by the boarding house keeper, and although at a late hour Wednesday afternoon she was still under the influence of the drug, it was stated that her condition is not regarded as serious. It is not thought that she took the medicine with suicidal intent.

Unconscious Girl Puzzles Doctors.

The movement to widen and re-grade Spring street from Marietta street to Brookwood is being whipped into definite shape Wednesday, and the property owners and a number of leading citizens will be prepared to urge that the project be included in the new budgets of the city and county governments.

At the meeting of more than 100 leading taxpayers in the Council chamber of the City Hall Tuesday afternoon, Frank F. Rice expressed the sentiment of the meeting, judging from the applause, when he nominated J. R. Smith for chairman of the meeting to be declared.

"When Napoleon started on his campaign into Italy and was confronted with the Alps he declared: 'There will be no Alps.'"

"Gentlemen, there will be no obstructions in the way of the Spring street improvement."

Mr. Smith was unanimously elected chairman. Councilman-elect A. W. Partridge then brought Mayor Woodward into the meeting. The Mayor was greeted with much applause.

Spring St. Move Given Impetus.

One Hundred Property Owners to Decide on Plan for Widening Thoroughfare.

Mayor Woodward promised support to any practical plan for the improvement of the street.

It was decided that the chairman should appoint a committee of 100 to work out plans. The boosters of the Spring street improvement hope to couple the street with the Terminal station by spanning the railroad tracks with a giant bridge.

"Madame Irene"

The Corset for the Present Day Styles

Madame Irene, the designer of Madame Irene Corsets, seems to specialize more successfully than most corset designers.

The result is corsets particularly adapted to wear on particular occasions.

Besides the fine models of Madame Irenes for general wear we would have you know such specialized corsets as these—

Madame Irene Dancing Corset, of firmly woven, heavy, but flexible linen mesh; two short bones, $7.50.

Madame Irene Suedine Corset, with elastic belt and free hips, four bones, very short, a model much favored for dancing and riding, $8.50.

Madame Irene Elastic Corset, the webbing is strong, long-wearing. It has no bones at all. A splendid model for wear with light evening dresses, $15.00.

The Madame Irene Surgical Corset should be the first corset a woman wears after an operation, it gives the body the support of a strong corset with no possible danger of irritating the wound. The front is of elastic webbing, the back of French coutil, two bones, $9.00.

The Madame Irene Hip Confiner, an effective flesh reducer, of surgical elastic webbing, it slips on, $12.50.

Clang, Clang! Honk, Honk! Toot, Toot!

Toy Town Is A-Bustle

"All off for Toy Town!"

We have just pulled in at the Terminal Station-ette. The train we came on was run by electricity. It arrived on time!

The porter-ette has taken our bags.

The bagman-ette is putting our trunks on the truck. Now let's see the city!

An automobile is waiting.

The chauffeur cranks up. That's a fine skyscraper-ette that looms before us. And what a busy factory-ette with its whirling wheels and deafening trip-hammers.

There are big crowds on the street!

Wonder what the attraction could be!

Ah, a circus parade!

See the big elephants, the camels, the funny monkeys, the bears, the lions, the horseback riders and the clowns, were there ever such funny fellows—

The little Dutch boy and girl do not know what to make of it all they are not laughing like the other little doll boys and girls.

Clang, Clang!

A fire!

There go the hose wagon, and hook and ladder, here comes the puffing engine!

What a hustling busy city is Toy Town—plenty of Atlanta Spirit here.

It is all in the Toy Store of a new standard that has just been opened in the Bazaar.

We warrant the grown-ups will have about as much fun out of it as the kiddies.

The Great Sousa and his Band at the Automobile Show Nov. 8 to 15. A fine time to visit Atlanta.

Starts Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Joy to the Starving Dyspeptic Who Cannot Satisfy Eat.

To meet one's self a healthy body and a healthy brain and to be able to eat in positive mental and physical vigor and stomach sufferers, and those who are weak.

"I walk to my meals and eat all I want to eat. I am healthy and strong. I am a happy man."

When your system is robust of the natural digestive juices, in their normal condition, a little dyspepsia tablet gives to them the condition they lack. They then perform the digestive apparatus and assimilation, pain, gas and stomach trouble.

Begin such as used in a greater tablet is one of nature's greatest aids, and when this is combined with the other ingredients you simply bring happiness to every suffering part of the system. The result is a healthy and strong body.

Precisely foods will not aid nature if the system is not robust. The food is not properly assimilated, and the system is not healthy.

Starts Dyspepsia Tablets mix with food and help the system to assimilate the food. They do not stop the food from entering the stomach, but they do stop the food from entering the lower digestive tract (the intestines). It takes the dyspepsia tablets with it, and there is where the real work is done.

The nutritive value of food and the proper parts of the body. The food is not properly assimilated, and the system is not healthy.

Go to your drug store and buy a box of Starts Dyspepsia Tablets, and then eat what you will. You will take a tablet afterwards. And you will find that the beginning of the end of your stomach troubles and food is.

Mrs. Harriman's Effort to Develop and Encourage American Workers.

It Sets a Good Example to MEN with Money. Better Develop American of Ability Than Enrich the Foreign Art Dealers.
 Fire Trade Enthusiasts, Please Notice.
 Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

E. H. Harriman left one of the biggest fortunes and one of the shortest wills on record.

He had collected in his lifetime, through his extraordinary genius for organization and constructive work, a great network of railroads. He was on the way to be the most powerful man in the country when death ended his labors.

Everything that he had, his entire fortune, his railroads—EVERYTHING he left to his wife.

It should interest Americans, especially those who make a specialty of spending their money abroad, and who believe that buying old stuff proves good taste, to learn one particular thing about the widow to whom Mr. Harriman left his fortune and his affairs.

ALL OF THE MONEY THAT SHE SPENDS IS SPENT IN AMERICA TO ENCOURAGE AMERICAN WORK AND DEVELOP AMERICAN RESOURCES.

Harriman gathered together a good many tens of millions of American money in his short life. His widow is spending the money WHERE HE MADE IT.

When Mrs. Harriman wants art work done she hires an American artist.

When she builds a house, she doesn't tear down fireplaces in Europe, or pull the locks and bolts off the doors of old convents, or bribe somebody to sell the inside of a church. She instructs American architects to find American workmen, American artists, sculptors and others, capable of doing the work that she wants done.

Mrs. Harriman probably knows that this is not by any means "an art age" in America. She is well aware that nobody living either in this country or abroad can do the work that was done in the days of Francis the First.

But she knows also that the work of such men as Michael Angelo, Bevenuto, Leonardo and others would never have been done had not those who possessed money combined with that money sufficient patriotism to encourage the workers of their own land.

The idea that a thing must be OLD in order to be GOOD is not a new or an American idea.

When Michael Angelo was young he chiseled out a piece of sculpture, imitating the ancient Greek statue, buried it in the ground and let it get reasonably well changed in appearance.

Then he sent it to a rich Cardinal in Rome fond of antiques.

The Cardinal was delighted and wanted to know where Michael Angelo had done his digging. The artist replied that he could dig up as many of those statues as the Cardinal desired—as he was able to make them in any quantity and better things more modern.

Fortunately the Cardinal was good natured, and could see real merit, and he helped the young artist.

When the Pope wanted his own statue made, and the great church of St. Peter built, he did not hire some one to imitate the Greek style of sculpture or copy a Greek temple.

He let Michael Angelo make the statue, build the great dome, and do the wonderful painting in the Sistine Chapel. The paintings that in that chapel are worth all the other paintings in the world.

That was the culmination of the genius of a great nation. Italy's greatness in that age was due to the fact that those who preceded Michael Angelo and his day were willing to encourage their own countrymen.

(It may interest you to know that the older Michel, whose son did so much for his country's art, was almost the exact image of our John D. Rockefeller.)

It isn't likely that Mrs. Harriman will live to see any great outburst of genius in American art. But at least she will have the satisfaction of doing what she can to help the country in which she and her husband were born, to encourage the ability of that country, be it great or little. And she will also have the satisfaction of knowing that the seed of encouragement sown to-day will bear fruit in the future. Men who think women their inferiors, please take notice.

P. S.—We call Mrs. Harriman's method to the attention of free trade enthusiasts who are doing their best to give people outside of America a chance to do the work that Americans ought to do.

What Mrs. Harriman has done voluntarily and intelligently, using her influence and power to build up American art and American mechanics, our tariff has done to a large extent automatically—and that fact should not be forgotten.

Originally England could make steel much better and cheaper than America. But the tariff helped our steel men and now we have beaten the English.

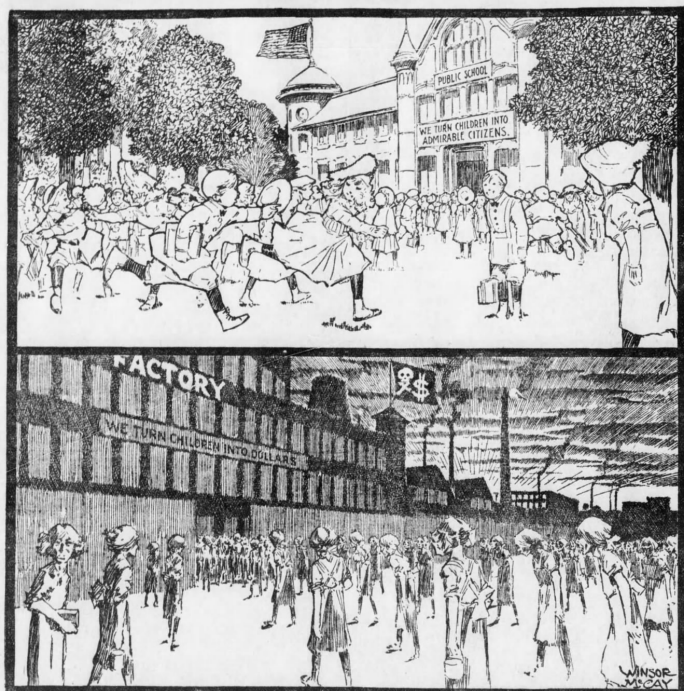

Originally we did not make plate glass in this country or any one of a thousand other necessary things. But the tariff made it worth while for manufacturers to start here and teach Americans how to do the work.

It was rather hard for our farmers to clear away our forests keep back the Indians and keep off the mortgage owner at the same time. But the tariff on farm products encouraged the American worker and our various "billion-dollar crops" are the result.

The enthusiastic gentlemen at Washington who are doing what they can under Mr. Wilson's guidance to give foreigners a chance to get the American market and do the work for Americans that Americans have hitherto been doing for each other might learn something if they sent a commission to talk to Mrs. Harriman about the importance of SPENDING YOUR MONEY WHERE IT IS EARNED and keeping it in the family.

"SCHOOL DAYS"

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

HERE are two pictures whose originals may be easily found in this country of civilization. There is one kind of a factory that makes useful, admirable men and women out of the children; and another kind that makes money out of them for the creatures that conduct the factories, and misery and unhappiness not only for the children but for the world where these children must live—if, indeed, they live at all, when their child strength has been squeezed into dollars in the dingy factories.

Perhaps the shame of the child-money factory would not be so great if we had not learned how to educate children as they should be educated. But we have learned how, as thousands of well-conducted schools testify. Ought there to be any place in a country which can supply this first picture for such a horror as is shown in the second?

Bringing German Literature to America

The Publication of "German Classics" Will Help Relax Existing Tension.

By DR. CHARLES H. PARKHURST

IT will interest both the German and English readers of The Georgian to know something of the splendid exhibit of German literature reproduced in English that is now in course of preparation. Three volumes of "The German Classics of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries," out of the proposed twenty, have already been delivered to subscribers.

Who Can Interpret Them to Us.

It is occasion for gratitude, however, that there are those who are to such degree masters of both languages that they can interpret to us, in terms of our own speech the product of Teutonic minds that have been doing their thinking on the other side of the water.

Prior to this undertaking scarcely ten per cent of the more prominent German authors had had their writings translated into English. This is the more lamentable, as much of the finest and most stirring writing ever produced, both prose and poetry, has been done on German ground.

It is time for the American mind to come out from its seclusion and appreciate the privilege of membership in the universal republic of letters. We have treated that state of our national development as a mere thing when it becomes us to be the best of nations and to be the best of men.

factures and commerce and general financial aggrandizement. Railroads and canals, mines and immense harvests sustain a certain relation to national greatness, but the mind of a man has a significance not attaching either to his stomach or his purse; and what is true of a man, considered as an individual, is peculiarly true of man considered collectively and nationally.

The United States has shown rather a frenzied ambition to extend its landed domain, but the opening up of the sea to the treasures of a foreign literature means a finer expansion than the acquisition of new acres and miles of tillage and pasture.

Our country, it is going to count as a great universal asset, has got to learn to cultivate itself more and more on the finer side of its nature and in the more serene reach of its possibilities. Another result to which, the publication of this great work may be expected to contribute will be the relaxing of that international tension which exists between us and Germany.

That we mean that there are on the side of either party any sentiments of actual enmity, but there exists among all people a good deal of interest and some astonishment. The standard you propose in criminal cases would destroy our system of jury trials, and substitute therefor ABSOLUTE KNOWLEDGE by the COURT before.

You say you want peace or peace. WHEN ALL DOUBT IS REMOVED, but this is not possible in cases of circumstantial evidence, and is not the standard fixed by law in the case of any civilized country. The jury must be satisfied to a moral and reasonable certainty, and beyond a REASONABLE DOUBT, but the judge is not so required.

Under these circumstances it is to be expected that the jury will know more about the proof than the judge, and the jury will be on the jury.

When you reduce convictions to cases of ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY, and require ALL DOUBT to be removed, you simply take the birds off and open the door for every species of crime.

JOHN AWTRY, Marietta, Ga.

MORE ABOUT JURY TRIALS

Editor The Georgian: I have read your editorial in Saturday's issue on Judge Roan's remarks in the Frank case with a good deal of interest and some astonishment. The standard you propose in criminal cases would destroy our system of jury trials, and substitute therefor ABSOLUTE KNOWLEDGE by the COURT before.

You say you want peace or peace. WHEN ALL DOUBT IS REMOVED, but this is not possible in cases of circumstantial evidence, and is not the standard fixed by law in the case of any other, of President Wilson, ex-Ambassador Bryce, Hon. Joseph H. Choate, President Butler, of Columbia, and Cardinal Gibbons.

Eighty Per Cent of Them Have Never Appeared in English.

Fully 80 per cent of the authors whose writings appear in "The German Classics" have never appeared in English, and thus have been held beyond the reach of Americans, except the limited few who have some understanding of German, and the majority of those, probably, would get more from a good translation than by reading the original.

The publication of this work is thus the opening of a new continent to the intellectual occupancy of Americans, whose possession by us will widen and enrich our treasury of thought and create a new sense of fraternal relation with a people of the same stock as ourselves and one with us in all that is best in our national life.

There are some who will have nothing to do with external reality; they will not obey the traditional code of laws, but will take only to the beliefs of their own nature. The destiny of such individuals varies according to the force of their personality, irrespective of their field of intellectual activity. They may be merely ridiculed or ignored, they may be misunderstood or persecuted, they may be martyrs, insanity or a martyr's death.

Such men are in truth martyrs in the cause of humanity. They are every one forward step in the progress of the new from the old, and the old is the noblest and loftiest civilization. And when a people ceases to provide such individuals it sinks into perdition or stagnates, and the power of development dies away.

This conflict between the two

Writes on

Woman and Business

He Tells of a Widow Who Has Lifted the Mortgage From the Farm and Is Making Money Raising Steers and Hogs for Market.

By ELBERT HUBBARD

THIS other day a woman from Kansas spent a few hours at East Aurora, having dropped in on her way home from an excursion to Niagara Falls.

This woman was less than six years ago, with a brood of seven youngsters, the oldest one fifteen.

At the time her husband passed away I remember sending her a letter of sympathy and condolence. I thought of how hard and difficult her position in life was, and I expressed my feelings in good conventional English book stuff.

But when I met the lady the other day I did not waste any of the lachrymose on her case. She informed me, in the course of a little talk, that her oldest son was manager of an elevator at fifteen hundred a year, and the oldest daughter was teaching school and drawing eighty dollars a month.

Then the lady went on to tell us she had just sold five carloads of steers that netted her in Chicago an even ninety dollars a head.

There were sixteen steers in a carload, which makes eighty head in all.

The amount of good mamma this woman received, after deducting freight, was a trifle over seven thousand dollars.

She told us that she was raising cattle with the intention of making a hundred head a year.

She also was raising hogs so as to send to the packers about three hundred head a year. These at present prices would bring at least twenty dollars each. And she keeps no more live stock than she can raise feed.

She has cleaned up the mortgage since her husband's death, and, all things considered, is getting along fairly well.

And yet we are sometimes told that women have no head for business.

What is business, anyway, beyond supplying human wants? And that is just what housekeeping is. Farming is running a garden and keeping house on a little higher scale than the average housewife does.

The reason this woman is not miserable is because she is busy. She is making money. She is bringing to bear a degree of attention to detail and a wise supervision which the average man, perhaps, does not and can not.

Also, let nobody feel sorry for the farmers of America. High prices mean prosperity for the farmer, and when the farmers have money to buy with, business is on a safe footing.

We hear considerable about business being dull, this for the reason that banks have not had money to loan equal to the demand.

Instead of business being poor, however, this means that business is good.

Merchants have not overbought. Stocks carried are small. There has been very little over-expansion.

Everybody who can work and will work has a job.

Good Business.

Wages were never so high as they are to-day, and the common people never had so much money as they have now. This is shown by the fact that railroad and steamship lines report the best summer's business they ever had.

Altogether, the general situation is improving slowly, surely, steadily.

Women's Struggle

From EDWIN MARKHAM.

HERMAN SCHNEIDER, in a translation from the German printed by Doran, presents a thoughtful study of the woman's movement as seen by the well-known European writer, Rosa Mayreder. From one of his chapters I note these suggestive thoughts:

"It is undeniable that there are many women who go far beyond the average in regard to intellect and strength of character, and many who are well qualified for careers and occupations other than those customary to the sex. There are many—but are these women?"

"At all periods of the world's history there have been women who have equalled or even excelled the majority of men in intelligence and in energy; yet they have not been able to alter the social position of their sex either in the matter of the law or in regard to standards of opinion. They were exceptions, and have been treated as such. They were exceptions—that is to say, they were not specimens of a new line of development; they were not pioneers opening out new routes for a future generation to follow and develop; they had no successors."

"But the battle between the normal majority and the individual deviating from the normal and striving to break down its tyranny goes down deep into the constitution of society; and the process is nothing less than the organic evolution of civilization."

"There are some who will have nothing to do with external reality; they will not obey the traditional code of laws, but will take only to the beliefs of their own nature. The destiny of such individuals varies according to the force of their personality, irrespective of their field of intellectual activity. They may be merely ridiculed or ignored, they may be misunderstood or persecuted, they may be martyrs, insanity or a martyr's death."

Such men are in truth martyrs in the cause of humanity. They are every one forward step in the progress of the new from the old, and the old is the noblest and loftiest civilization. And when a people ceases to provide such individuals it sinks into perdition or stagnates, and the power of development dies away."

This conflict between the two opposing tendencies is eternally waged. So long as the revolutionary individual stands alone is isolated; it is only when he acquires a following, an adequate number of sympathizers and supporters, that accepted ideas begin to give way before him."

"The progressive individual in the case of a woman, has, therefore, two-fold struggle with conformity: she has to contend with the accepted type, with the ruling masculine notion has set up for womanhood, and with the actual predominant womanly type which stands for the average of the sex as it is at this moment."

"The classical example of this tendency toward progress in the female sex is offered by the women who first introduced the feminist movement. For over a century they and their successors had to be content to be reckoned as degenerates. They were generally regarded as perverted types, not to be ranked among worthy specimens of their sex. Indeed, it is not so long since they were spoken of as 'mad women.' It was not possible to view as other than freaks and abnormalities these creatures who came upsetting established ideas and questioning approved tenets."

"The new path they sought to make for themselves could be held to be nothing but blind attempts to do what the sex was held to be entitled to by its natural sphere and its 'natural destiny.' Even now we may hear the voices of those who persist in regarding the entire feminist movement as a symptom of degeneration."

"So long as the feminist movement was entirely revolutionary women were right in directing their energies not against average humanity in general, but against their active Apollonian opponents in particular. They could regard this type of humanity, and regard it as their enemy so far as female problems were concerned. But the time has already come when the revolutionary has passed into the organized state; that is to say, when the movement must be in normal relation to its adherents. Their demands are legitimate, they have rights. The equity of them is being recognized, and economic conditions are rapidly preparing the way for their realization."

English Champion Has Made
Many Long Journeys in Effort to Fight Crown Holder.

By 'Freddie' Welsh.

(English Lightweight Champion.)

Over a hundred thousand miles after a championship!

While Ritchie's disagreeable journey all the way across the American continent to escape from being forced to swallow a second dose of his handsomely paid prize money, he has been in the hands of the law for a long time.

Ritchie after fleeing from Vancouver, under the friendly cover of night, landed in New York, and, long breath and proceeded to pick out one of his favorite soft spots.

"No decision!" was the verdict. But the fate was not on his trail, or to be more correct, the battle Welsh bugaboo was for the California, where he had been called champion to stand still long enough for him to settle one of all upon whom brow shall read the world's lightweight title.

Call Ritchie Great Runner.

This story jumps off from Vancouver to New York from the heels of Arthur Duff, Toronto fighter, who has been in the hands of the law for a long time.

"I've got a 100,000 mile purse, winner take all, and I know 'No Decision' Ritchie can't put me out."

Let me see—there was Joe Cassa, Butting Nelson, Ad Wiggins and now this "no decision" gentleman—Ritchie!

I just missed that seven years ago before my first battle with Rocky Mountain.

"Bigger" trail until camping was 100 to 1 a last time.

It took the American public some time to get the idea of Ritchie's trail.

With all of my useless globe trotting and digging into my jeans for expenses I'm not half as much up to the manner in which Ritchie was treated as I am in the manner of treatment and vilifying of Hugh Springer, the Vancouver promoter who was to have staged our match.

But when I saw Ritchie in the ring, I settled myself down for another three thousand dollars.

But when I saw Ritchie in the ring, I settled myself down for another three thousand dollars.

Ritchie is evidently a believer in boxing and there is one that he is not going to try to reverse and win it says.

"History repeats itself."

Alabama Hopes for Victory Over Tigers

HUNTINGHAM, Nov. 2.—Huntingham football fans are looking forward to the game here Saturday between Alabama and Sewanee with much interest.

This game promises to develop into a considerable scrap, the local players being unable to figure out the probable outcome though there is a leaning to the home team.

The game will decide the ultimate ranking of Sewanee and Alabama, both of whom were destined to a battle for fifth place, the winning team being assigned to the ranking and the loser to sixth in the R. I. A. A. standing.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR A. A. EASTMAN, Nov. 2.—An athletic association was formed at the University of the Eastman High School a few days ago, with the following officers: President, L. E. Clemente; secretary, J. H. Hargrove; treasurer, Albert Hargrove.

Moguls Wise to Recognize Fultz

Brotherhood Lesson for Owners

By Sam Crane.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—For the good of all concerned in the coming controversy between the National Commission, club owners and the baseball players' fraternity, when the latter presents its demands for reforms looking to the players' interests, it is fortunate that the second thought has convinced some of the moguls that it will be the better plan to allow the fraternity to be represented by Lawyer David L. Fultz, whom they have elected the president of their organization, rather than to ignore him and his official status.

Professional baseball players are extremely touchy on many things, but on none more than to be refused recognition in the way they themselves desire.

Individually the players are always ready to go to law to force their demands, but they get together and talk over their troubles, real or imaginary, with great gusto and with reasonable arguments, but they are not so ready to present their arguments in the face of what they think is necessary to give the moguls a correct view of what they want in the way of reforms.

There would be nothing assembled as a protest, but they would be a protest in the eyes of the public, and their leader and mouthpiece in the eyes of the public would be John M. Ward, who is an insatiable to the National Commission, but it would also tend to make the players' demands seem to be the demands of a few men, rather than the demands of a whole fraternity.

When it is all over, the fall of the players will be the fall of the players, and the fall of the players will be the fall of the players, and the fall of the players will be the fall of the players.

BOXING

News of the Ring Game

Al Reich and George Rodol, two-round bout at a special show held by the National A. C. C. New York, tonight, will be the main attraction.

Jimmy Duffy, the Buffalo lightweight, has agreed to make 120 pounds at 4 o'clock for Charlie White. This bout is a ten-round bout at Milwaukee Monday night.

Al Lippe sends word from Paris that Jack Johnson is not coming to fight the fight promoter of France, is willing to go in a ten-round bout with any fighter he selects. Lippe also states that Johnson is not wanted in Paris over the fight, and that they will soon be eliminated entirely.

George Chip will swing the padded mitts with Freddie Hicks in a scheduled ten-round bout at Saturday night. This will be the first time since the month ago that the two have fought.

Frank Pott, the Chicago promoter, staged his first boxing show of the season at the Chicago Athletic Club. He had two ten-round bouts and a six-round bout.

Charley Lee and Joe Young clash in one of the ten-round bouts, while Frank Baker, Steve Jack, and Jimmy Duffy should have a good time at the same time.

Joe Mander will probably meet Peter White at the same time. "Glackie" Bagley will have a six-round bout with the winner of the White bout.

At Woburn, Mass., the report that he of the ten-round bout with Charlie White at Milwaukee two weeks ago was a complete success. He had a good time in his life, and will gladly fight White again when he comes around in shape.

Tom Gibbons, Mike's brother, is married to his second wife, Brown, the Chicago midweight, at Hudson, N. Y., on November 2.

Jimmy Gibbons, promoter in Oakland, Cal., is after Packer McFarland, who has been in the ring for a long time, but he is having a hard time in getting Packer's signature.

Eddie McKeever will not be able to box in a Wisconsin fight for six months. He recently refused to sign a date with Jack Britton at Milwaukee and the Wisconsin commission has put the ban on him.

Bob Hamilton's little daughter has never been in this country again, but she is still in the country.

Jack White, brother of the noted Charlie, is slipping badly. Jack was supposed to be comparatively unknown, but he is in the ring for a long time, and he is having a hard time in getting Charlie's signature.

Now Herrmann's Head May Fall

Commission in for Shake-Up

By O. B. Keeler.

HERRMANN'S head may fall in the National League politics. It seems that Garry Herrmann, official postmaster of the Blue Sox, is about to lose some of his collection.

Garry went to work and got sent on Tom Lynch, and had another guy all picked out to succeed Tommy next year as president of the league.

And now it appears Tommy isn't going to be succeeded.

Tommy, it seems, went to work and solicited himself with the faculty, and, being a four-square kind of a chap, he stands pretty well with the rest of the works.

And now Tommy is in position to do a lot of directing, or rather, is away off.

NOW, whether Tommy's reciprocal to try to chop Garry's head off, is quite another thing. There is no doubt that a good many of the faculty don't like Herrmann. Some of them are unsatisfied in stating that they think another guy would look better in Garry's place on the National Commission. They don't even specify what guy.

ONE of the things that Tommy is doing to do, however, is to stick out for a three-year term for his next contract, or rather, is to stick out for a three-year term for his next contract, or rather, is to stick out for a three-year term for his next contract.

So that would be a whole of a progressive step for the National League to take, all right. It would not be a lot of peanut politics, but the old crier.

WELCOME CHANGE.
